The administrative offices for GICAC are located at the Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI) Headquarters. The Director for the Task Force is the Special Agent in Charge of the GBI's High Technology Investigations Unit (HTIU). Also housed at GBI Headquarters are eight HTIU Special Agents who coordinate Georgia ICAC investigations, along with the cyber tips received from the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NMEC). The GBI also has a Special Agent trained and equipped to conduct Internet crimes against children investigations in Douglas (Southeast Georgia). The Georgia ICAC offers equipment and training to local law enforcement agencies.

Bullying Resources

The Centers for Disease Control (CDC) has a web page that outlines the problems associated with technology and youth violence. The CDC says:

Youth can use electronic media to embarrass, harass or threaten their peers. Increasing numbers of adolescents are becoming victims of this new form of violence. Although many different terms- such as cyberbullying, Internet harassment, and Internet bullying-have been used to describe this type of violence, electronic aggression is the term that most accurately captures all types of violence that occur electronically. Like traditional forms of youth violence, electronic aggression is associated with emotional distress and conduct problems at school.

Dealing With Bullies:

<http://kidshealth.org/kid/feeling/emotion/bullies.html>

Bullying is a big problem. It can make kids feel hurt, scared, sick, lonely, embarrassed and sad. Bullies might hit, kick, or push to hurt people, or use words to call names, threaten, tease, or scare them. A bully might say mean things about someone, grab a kid's stuff, make fun of someone, or leave a kid out of the group on purpose. Some bullies threaten people or try to make them do things they don't want to do

What Kids Are Saying About Bullying:

http://kidshealth.org/kid/feeling/school/poll\_bullying.html?tracking=K\_RelatedArticle

We were wondering what kids thought about this tough topic so we asked 1,229 boys and girls to answer some questions about bullying. Nearly half of them said they had been bullied before. Some said it was happening every day. Others said it only happened once in a while
